I did it!

In the summer of 2010, when I was ten, I went to Norway to visit my Grandfather Jorgen. He spent all his life on a small mountain farm, far from big cities and department stores. I was an American, I lived in a town, and I always thought that people simply bought what they needed. My grandfather showed me a different life. A little toy boat will always remind me of these life lessons.

One day Grandfather Jorgen said, "Come here, I have something for you. Would you like to have a toy boat? You can sail it at the lake," he said.

"Wonderful", I thought, looking around for the boat. But there wasn't any.

Grandfather took a piece of wood. "The boat is in there," he said. "You can bring it out." Then he gave me a knife and showed me how to work with it. He answered my questions, but I did all the work myself.

"It'll be a fine boat, and you'll be making it all with your own hands," he said. "No one can give you what you do for yourself." He was saying it again and again as I was working.

Finally, I finished the boat. The boat wasn't much to look at, but I was proud of it. I could say, "I did it!"
